DAILY SUMMARY ALERT

ALERTS DATE

The following section illustrates the date alerts were reported on Wednesday, 23rd November, 2022.

BANDITRY

- In what appeared to be a continuation of their ongoing rivalry, fighters from the Islamic State of West African Province (ISWAP) attacked a Boko Haram convoy, killing many of them. On Monday, a counter-insurgency expert revealed this. The two groups have been fighting, and Abubakar Shekau, the leader of Boko Haram, was reportedly killed during one of the clashes in 2021. According to a counterinsurgency expert, the most recent inter-rivalry clash occurred in Sambisa Forest's Chillaria axis. He claimed that ISWAP terrorists ambushed a moving convoy of Boko Haram elements over the weekend, resulting in a heavy gun battle that lasted nearly 40 minutes. He also stated that the ISWAP group seized one Hilux truck, several motorcycles, and weapons from Boko Haram.

BANDITRY

- Bandits in Zamfara State have kidnapped four villagers from the Kolo community in the state's Gusau Local Government Area. According to a community member, the bandits initially demanded N10 million in ransom before releasing the kidnapped victims, but later agreed to accept N5 million. According to him, the bandits sent a message on Tuesday insisting that the kidnapped victims remain in their den until December 2022, when the new Naira notes would be in circulation.

KIDNAPPING

- Four members of a notorious kidnapping gang terrorizing Abeokuta and its environs have been apprehended by Ogun State Police Command operatives. The disclosure was made in a statement issued by the Ogun State command Police Public Relations Officer in Abeokuta, the state capital. According to the command Police Public Relations Officer, they were apprehended following a series of kidnappings in the Abeokuta neighborhoods of Soyoye and Ibara Orile.
- At least six people, including a chief superintendent of Customs, two medical doctors, the deputy route Commander of the FRSC, and two others, have been rescued by anti-kidnapping tactical teams. According to reports, the six people were released as a result of tactical teams exerting pressure on the kidnapppers to release their victims unharmed near the Uyanga rubber plantations in Cross River state's Akamkpa LGA. The Police Public Relations Officer confirmed the release, saying that six people were rescued, including two medical doctors.
- A pastor has been arrested by Adamawa State Police Command officers for allegedly being a member of a kidnapping syndicate terrorizing residents in the state. However, her luck ran out when officers from the command's Anti-Kidnap Unit traced her phone and discovered that it had been used by a kidnap suspect. The police were said to be on the trail of a suspect who was demanding N10 million in ransom from the family members of a kidnap victim in the state. According to the state Police Public Relations Officer, the suspect pretended to be a prayer warrior and traditionalist to most of her clients, but she was actually a member of a group of daredevil criminals who specialized in kidnapping people for ransom.
- Gunmen kidnapped a medical doctor in Benue State's Zaki Biam, Ukum Local Government Area. According to a family member, the incident happened around 8 p.m. on Tuesday. He was kidnapped at his home opposite NKST Secondary School Zaki Biam, along with his son, who was later released unharmed, according to a family member. The incident was confirmed by the Divisional Police Office in the Ukum Local Government Area.

DAILY SUMMARY ALERT

SHOOTING (GUNMEN)

- On Monday, suspected Fulani herdsmen killed ten people in Agu-Amede community in Eha-Amufu, Isi-Uzo Local Government Area of Enugu State. According to reports, the invading herders also injured many people, sacked villages, and burned down houses. Since the second quarter of 2021, armed Fulani herdsmen have sacked over 14 local villages in the Agu-Amede and Mgbuji communities. It was also reported that a large number of people had been killed and properties worth millions of naira had been destroyed. In addition, many people, including children, have been kidnapped by the same armed herdsmen who use Benue State as a base of operations. The most recent attack began on Saturday, when armed Fulani herdsmen invaded the Agu-Amede community and killed two people before returning on Monday and killing another eight people as they returned from their farms and in their homes.
- Following the unfortunate attack on farmers in their farm settlements at Aguamaede and Mgbuji communities in Eha Amufu, Isi-Uzo Local Government Area by suspected herders, the Enugu State Government has condemned the heinous act in its entirety, resulting in casualties and the displacement of some indigenes of the communities. The State Government, in a statement issued by the Secretary to the State Government, urged heads of security agencies to rise to the challenge and deploy more personnel to affected communities to provide adequate security of life and property.

ARMED ROBBERY

- The Lagos State Police Command has confirmed the arrest of a 22-year-old suspect in the Ojota area of the state for dispossessing a student who has yet to be identified of his property. According to reports, the student was walking home from Ojota when the suspect and a fleeing accomplice attacked and robbed him of his valuables. It was learnt that operatives of the Rapid Response Squad who were close to the crime scene, gave the suspects a hot chase and arrested one of them. The state Public Relations Officer confirmed the arrest on Tuesday and stated that efforts were being made to apprehend the other suspect.
- Imo State police have killed one of three armed robbers who specialize in robbing and stealing the belongings of innocent people at Ohio and Egbada junction in Owerri West LGA of Imo State. The killing follows a distress call from a robbery victim who stated that three hoodlums were robbing innocent victims of their money and valuables after stealing two motorcycles from their owners near the above-mentioned location. According to a statement issued on Tuesday by the Imo State Command Public Relations Officer, the command's tactical team was immediately mobilized to the scene upon receiving the information. He claimed that the hoodlums opened fire upon seeing the operatives, who responded professionally.

RTA

- The death of two female police constables on their way to the Police Games 2022 in Uyo, Akwa Ibom State, has been confirmed by the Borno State Police Command. The police also stated that 17 other people were injured in varying degrees during the fatal crash, which occurred near Hawan Kibo in Plateau State. According to a statement issued by the Borno State Police Public Relations Officer in Maiduguri on Tuesday, the Borno State Commissioner of Police regretted the unfortunate incident that occurred to the Police delegation representing Zone 15 comprised of Borno and Yobe State Police Commands on their way to participate in the Bi-ennial Police Games in Akwa Ibom State.
